

Collection Name: Patent Medicine Broadside
Collection #: MSS 950
Size: 1 item, .125 cf
Dates: n.d.
Processed: December 2006, SDH
Restrictions: None

Scope and Content Note:

The Patent Medicine Broadside, n.d., was produced for Cluer Dicey and Company, London. It advertises True Scots Pills, “left to posterity by Patrick Anderson, of Edinburgh.” This single-sheet printed advertisement enumerates the uses of the pills and extols their therapeutic benefits. At the end is a physician endorsement by George Clemison. This broadside accompanies a box of pills in the collection of the library. Gift of Dr. Ronald Nickel, December 2005.

Citation: Patent Medicine Broadside, MSS 950, Waring Historical Library, MUSC.

Subject Headings:

Advertising.
Drugs—Non-Prescription.
Patent medicine.
Pharmaceutical Industry—history—England.
Cluer Dicey and Company (London, England)
True Scots Pills.
Anderson, Patrick
Clemison George